When it comes to roofing services in Northwest Indiana, one name rises above the rest. Gluth Brothers Roofing has been the first choice of clients throughout the region for more than a century because of a firm commitment to quality, service, and your satisfaction.

We are proud to be a family-owned business, and understand fully that the Gluth name is riding on your experience with us. As a result, we work tirelessly to get it right the first time to save you time and the aggravation that is commonplace with less experienced roofers.

Four generations of Gluths have served the region from our humble beginnings way back in 1886. In this time, we have built a stellar reputation by providing free estimates, using only name brand roofing materials, maintaining a staff of skilled professionals, and guaranteeing all our work.

As roofing has grown more sophisticated over the years, we have remained a leader in the region by providing a variety of options for both residential and commercial clients. Additionally, we are licensed, bonded, and insured to provide you added confidence that the final product will exceed your expectations.
