Munster is governed by a five-member Town Council with a Council president elected annually from among its members. The Council members are elected at large from districts for four-year terms. The Town is divided into five districts, and each Council member resides in a different district. A Town Manager has been appointed by the Council to manage the day-to-day operations of the Town. The Town Clerk-Treasurer is an elected position.

Centennial Park is operated by the Munster Parks and Recreation Department. The Parks and Recreation Department is managed by the Director of Parks and Recreation who reports to a five-member Park and Recreation Board.

Munster's excellent schools, strategic location and overall quality of life make it an attractive community in which to live and conduct business. The Town's quality of life and overall appearance are very important to its residents and business community.

EDUCATION AND COMMUNITY LIFE

The town's public school system is noted for its overall excellence. All five schools in the system are recognized as Indiana Blue Ribbon schools and have been awarded five-star ratings.

Munster is home to the Center for Visual and Performing Arts, which houses the Theatre at the Center, a 450-seat semi-circular theater. Performances include Broadway musicals and Chicagoland premieres of new shows. The Northwest Symphony Orchestra, the region's premier 75-member professional orchestra, is also based in the Center.

Munster's extensive park system includes hundreds of acres of neighborhood parks, nature areas, historic sites, sports complexes, and an extensive trail system connecting to neighboring communities. Residents will find soccer fields, baseball fields, basketball, tennis and volleyball courts, picnic shelters, and walking paths in the 31 parks. There is something for everyone.

HISTORY AND BACKGROUND

When the Town of Munster turned 100 in 2007, residents welcomed Centennial Park, a 200-plus acre recreational destination on Munster's south side. The facility is located on Calumet Avenue, just south of 45th Street. Centennial Park offers a family-oriented environment with its large and wide-open natural spaces including formal gardens, playground, outdoor pavilions, entertainment stage, walking paths, fishing, a 3-acre dog park and direct connectivity to the regional Pennsy Greenway trail which is part of the Great American Rail-Trail. This eco-friendly environment preserves the natural surroundings of the land.

DESCRIPTION OF CENTENNIAL GOLF COURSE

The Centennial Park Golf Course was planned as the end use for the brownfield previously known as Lakewood Park. A 9-hole, 3,300 yard par 36 regulation golf course and practice facility was designed by noted landfill course architect Tim Nugent who also designed White Hawk Country Club and co-designed Harborside International. The golf course has become a premier 9-hole course and an outstanding addition to the Greater Chicago area golf community.

The course design utilizes a myriad of environmental and topographic characteristics that make up the site. The result is an eclectic blend of traditional links style of architecture intertwined in a mix of highland and marshland settings. While not a long course by today's standards, the Centennial Park Golf Course will challenge all levels of players. Don't be surprised if it takes several rounds to discover all the challenges designed on this course.

If you find that your game needs a little work, the Centennial Park Practice Facility can help. This 300+ yard range has a 40-station public grass tee and for periods of inclement weather there is also a 15-station all-weather tee line. Eight stations are covered by an extended roofline from the cart storage facility. The range also has five bent grass target greens with simulated target bunkers. Adjacent to the 1st tee, a huge 15,000 sq. ft. practice putting green is available to hone your putting stroke.

A truly remarkable wasteland reuse project, the Centennial Park Golf Course provides an economical, high quality, family golfing experience while addressing the need for an alternative to the 5-hour round of golf.

The course is part of Munster's largest park and utilizes more than half of the 200-acre park site. Centennial Park is a regional attraction which is visited by people from all over Northwest Indiana and the Chicagoland area. The course includes a pro shop with concessions, a cart storage garage with forty Yamaha golf carts purchased in 2025, eight covered tee boxes at the driving range, a patio shelter, and a shared maintenance shop for all of Centennial Park. Maynard Lake, within the park, is used to supply the underground, automatic irrigation system for the park and golf course. The course is easily accessible from the Northwest Indiana/Chicagoland market from Interstate 80/94 and Route 30.
